1. During my recent inspection of the [redacted] it came to my attention that transportation difficulties were causing unwarranted hardships to [redacted] personnel stationed at [redacted] and were in fact interfering with operations. Housing within walking distance of the office is not available, and public bus systems do not operate after 11 P.M. As a result, night shift employees must either wait several hours for resumption of bus service after being relieved from duty or solicit rides from milk transports or other chance vehicles.

2. I had hoped to be able to conclude an arrangement with the [redacted] to provide transportation for [redacted] employees, but the recent drastic curtailment of gasoline rations has made [redacted] unwilling or unable to extend its service beyond its own employees. The gasoline shortage has also aggravated the difficulties to [redacted], to the point that [redacted] is unable to supply certain material to Washington at the hour required because of staff unavailability.

3. It is therefore necessary to make an adjustment of the [redacted] table of equipment requirements to include two motor vehicles for staff transportation, and it is requested that the attached requisition for one sedan and one station wagon be acted upon without delay.
